WINNING W

5 cents per copy

VOL. III.

WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1884.

A Wife's Persistent Work for Her Husband Gets II m Out of Jail.

Iowa, to the New York Sun says: A singular instance of a woman's persistency and success as a lobbyist has come to light here. In 1876 Edward Bruce, a wholesale liquor dealer of Keokuk, failed in business and became dissipated. He had had some business dealings with P. McNamara, a grocer.

The latter had loaged him money on several occasions, when he refused to accommodate Bruce any further a quarrel ensued. Bruce finally drew a revolver and tried to shoot, but bystanders prevented, and a policeman confiscated his weapon. Going home,

Bruce took a nap, and on waking he went down town, bought another pistol, and going to McNamara's house

The tragedy caused intense excitement in Keokuk and vicinity, for it was considered one of the most wanton and unprovoked murders ever perpetrated in the State. Bruce was tried, convicted, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, and everybody

His wife set at work, however, without delay to secure his pardon. She is an attractive woman, of great force of

has not from the first entertained a doubt of her ultimate success. When she announced her intention of applying for his release it was thought that she must be crazy, for the difficulties to be overcome seemed insuperable. In this State the Governor cannot pardon

a murderer unless the Legislature recommends it. To the members of the General Assembly Mrs. Bruce turned

At the outset she received little en-supposed that he would remain there.

shot him dead.

A recent letter from Des Moines,

PARDOY.

NO. 3.

"THE CIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME."

(Illustrated) by the use of a Bugg, made by T. T. HAYDOCK, which is not only the Leading Buggy in this picture, but,

THE LEADING BUGGY OF AMERICA! Has Haydock's Safety King Bolt and Fifth Wheel Ask your dealer for the A. T. HAY-DOCK Buggy, with the Hadock Safe y King Bolt and Fifth Wheel. Life is nsecure riding over any other. This picture will be furnished on a large vho will agree to frame it.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE AND WEOLESALE PRICE LIST.

Corner Plum and : Twelfth Street:

Cincinnati, Ohio.

NO INVESTMENT SO PROF-ITABLE

THE MOST USEFUL BOOK EVER PUBLISHED

A Book that should be in Every House. The press, teachers, and professional people throughout the country pronounce it to be the BOOK OF BOOKS. It contains upwards of 50,000 WORDS, with their definition and pronunciation, according to Webster and other recognized authorities; a large number of additional words and definitions in general use. It contains a mine of information for everybody. This book is handsomely bound in cloth, containing 542 Pages Profusely Illustrated. We propose to send you one of these valuable books, by mail, all shipping charges prepaid, to any address, on receipt of only ONE DOLLAR.

> Address M. STOLZ & CO., 28 Park Place, New York.

JOHN F. ELLIS & CO.

ESTABLISHED 1852.

937 Pennsylvania Avenue, Near Tenth Street

PIANOS AND ORGANS

For Sale at Reasonable Prices, on Easy Terms

Tuning, Repairing and Moving promptly attended to. Cornets, Violins, Flutes.

Guitars, and everything in the music line for CASH OR ON INSTALMENTS.

JOHN F. ELLIS & CO., 937 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

THE ORIGINAL LONDON MISFIT STORE

912 F STREET, OPPOSITE MASONIC TEMPLE

RESULT OF EXCESS.

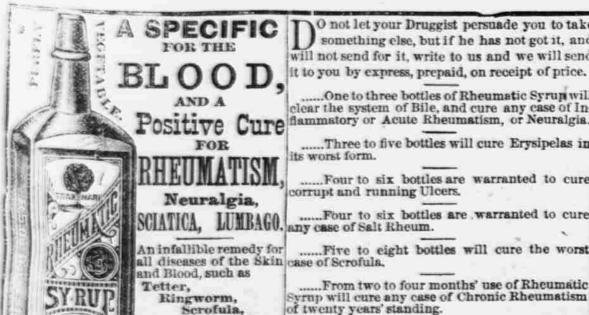

Overproduction and backwardness of trade in many sections have terminated in misfortune to manufacturers in general, who, to secure ready cash, have been compelled to part with their accumulated stocks at great concession of library as the following offering of

OOL CASSIMERE SUITS

Will best illustrate. 500 Cassimere Suits purchased this week from one of the leading manufacturers, and which we offer at from $3.50 to $5.00 under the regular price per garment. Overcoats in 50 different styles, including Melton 85.50, former price $9; Fine Cassimere $7, former price $15; elegant Blue Caster Beavers $11,25, former price $19; Magnificent satin-lined Chinchillas at $14.50, former price $30. Boys' and Children's Clothing at 50 per cent. below the regular price. Pants from $1 up. Gossamer coats from $1.50 up.

ORIGINAL LONDON MISFITSTORE

912 F Street, Opposite Masonic Temple, SIX DOORS FROM NINTH STREET.

and Kidneys when all

ther remedies have

ASPECIFIC FOR

NEURALGIA

O not let your Druggist persuade you to take something else, but if he has not got it, and will not send for it, write to us and we will send it to you by express, prepaid, on receipt of price. ...One to three bottles of Rheumatic Syrup will lear the system of Bile, and cure any case of In-

.....Three to five bottles will cure Erysipelas in

.....Four to six bottles are warranted to curorrupt and running Ulcers.Four to six bottles are warranted to cur

An infallible remedy forFive to eight bottles will cure the worst ...From two to four months' use of Rheumatic yrup will cure any case of Chronic Rheumatism of twenty years' standing. Erysipelas. Pimples & Blotches, If you have been a sufferer for years, and have and is the best Remedy used all the remedies you could hear of, with no THEUMANISM plaints and Weak avail, do not be discouraged, for Rheumatic nesses. It has cured Syrup will cure you.

diseases of the Liver Price, $1.00 per bottle; 6 bottles for $5.00 Send for our pamphlet of Testimonials, etc. RHEUMATIC SYRUP CO., Rochester, N. Y.

GENERAL HOOD'S ROMANCE. Dramatic Incident in the Life of a Confederate Officer. A writer in the Washington Chron icle relates the following dramatic intident in General Hood's life: There was visiting Mrs. Jefferson Davis in Richmond, at that time, a lady belonging to a family in the South of very powerful convictions, who, in beauty, cleverness and ambition, has never had her superior in that section. She was engaged to be married to General Hood. With all a woman's natural ambition for her promised husband. she determined, if possible, to help him to a position where his unqualified abilities as a fighter would find a proper sphere. The instant a change in the commander of the second great army of the Confederacy was noted, she saw her opportunity. "I will try to have you given the command of the Western Army," she wrote him, "and you must succeed!" General Hood was then about 33 years old, and had first distinguished himself in two of the greatest battles of the war as a division and corps commander. He was a man who was always ready to fight, no matter against what odds; and as the Army of the Tennessee could not be recruited much more, it was decided at Richmond that some one should three terrible battles, and, if it were possible, get Sherman's corps enough apart to fall on them and defeat them, each one at a time. General Hood was selected. Every one knew he would fight whenever he got the chance, and that was mainly what was wanted at Richmond. It was a proud day for the stately woman he loved when it was announced that General Hood was to be raised provisionally to the grade of full General and given to this well-trained army. On the 17th of July (I believe that was the date) General Johnston was relieved, and it was understood that thereafter there would be no more flanking or strategic operations, but some terrible battles. Hood did his best, but the transcendant genius of Johnston was lacking, and the final battles of the 14th and 15th of December, 1864, in front of Nashville, nearly restroyed his army. After this occurred General Hoed was sent for to come to Richmond at once. The day after

were announced the lady came in with a packet in her hand. "General Hood."

she said, looking straight into his eyes,

"when I became engaged to you I had the fullest faith in your success. I tried to help you, and did assist in having the command of the Army of Tennessee given you. You have failed; why can never bring myself to bear the

of defeat, and I sent for you to say that our engagement must be at an end. Here are your letters and some things you gave me. Now, good-bye, and let the

While this was being said General Hood was standing on his crutches, for his leg was gone and one arm shattered

He turned very white but said not a word, nor did he look at the hand out-

out from her presence forever more

But he never forgot nor forgave the guished courage could do to win.

versation commenced he rose quick succession of the yellow fever in 1878 is still fresh in the public mind,as is the fact that they left nine little pargest bells in the world; "King of Ivan's, Moscow, 127,830; great bel.

old, to the care of strangers.

St. Peter's, Rome, 18,600, or how is now beside the question.

couragement, but as 'session followed session and she appeared regularly each time, tearful-eyed, but apparently confident, and seeming never to imagine that she was asking more than a mere personal favor, it was noticed that her strength increased. She was persistency itself. No legislator could (scape her. She was everywhere that the Solons were, always imploring. When the Legislature was not in session, she was busy soliciting signatures to a petition, and almost every man of prominence in the State has at some his arrival he received a note from the time or other been urged to add his lady mentioned, requesting him to call name to her list. on her at his earliest convenience. There happened to be an officer with General Hood whom he knew very well when the note reached him, and he asked the officer to go with him to the house where Miss --- was. After a few moments of waiting when they

At the last session when it became apparent that her gradually increasing support had become formidable, the friends of the murdered man bestirred themselves, and in a few weeks they rolled up a petition against her that was five times the length of hers, for it was the general belief that her husband was suffering a well-merited punishment. Petitions did not count much, however, against her buttonholing tactics. The bill for the release of Bruce was introduced, and she haunted the Capitol at all hours when she for its passage.

When it was reached on the calendar name of a man who wears the prestige many effective speeches were made against it, but on the announcement of the vote it was found to have been carried by 55 against 40. In the Sen_ ate less difficulty was experienced. dead past be forgotten. Good-bye!" though the little woman was on hand all the time until the measure was dis. posed of. She won in the higher body by a vote of 26 against 13.

As soon as the bill had been passed she disappeared from the Capitol, and stretched to bid him good-bye. He the opponents of the pardon who had gravely bent his stately head and went rolled up the monster petitions against it left them with the Governor and made up their minds that he would ig. bitter, cruel words, and years after, it nore the action of the Assembly, as he speaking of the matter, he showed deer legally could do. In this they were emotion. It was so hard to bear, for he had done all that the most distin-It is learned here now that Bruce walked out of the Fort Madison prison was an awful position for the officer the other day clad in citizen's clothes: who went with him. When the conthat he was driven to a small station on the Burlington road, where Mrs. walked over to a window in order that Bruce, equipped with many trunks for he might not be witness to what he travelling, joined him, and that they foresaw would be a most painful scene took an evening train bound for the But he could not help hearing, and north. They were out of the State never until his dying day will he forlong before the news of the Governor's get one of the most remarkable inciaction was known. While there is dents of the war. General Hood in some disposition to criticise him. 1869 married Miss Marie Hennen, a nearly everybody is willing to admit daughter of Hon. D. N. Hennen, of that the wife has earned some sort of New Orleans. She was a tall, hand a reward for her devotion and persesome woman, worthy of her gallant verance. It is supposed that the reand chivalric soldier husband. The sad united couple have gone to Dakota. death of both husband and wife in where Bruce's father lives.

Female Schools of Medicine.

"From what sources do the women children, the eldest only nine years physicians derive their medical educa tion?" asked a New York Telegram reporter of Mrs. Mary Jacobi, M. D. Here are the weights of some of the

"There are only three female bells," Moscow, 443,732 pounds; St regular schools of medicine in the United States to-day." replied Mrs. at Pekin, 120,000, at Vienna 40,200; at Jacobi, "the Woman's Medical Col-Olmutz, Bohemia, 40,000; St. Paul's, lege in Philadelphia, which has been London, 38,470; "Big Ben," West- thirty years in existence; the New minster, 30,350; at Montreal 28,500; York Medical College of the New York

Infirmary, otherwise called the Blackwell College, after the sisters Blackwell, who founded it fifteen years ago, and the Female Medical College of Chicago, established six or seven years ago. A number of ladies go each year to study and graduate in France and Switzerland, where they are admitted to the State schools of medicine. Denmark, Sweden, Italy and Russia also admit women to the State medical schools, but American girls do not take advantage of the privilege. In Austria ladies attend from medicine in England and Ger medical education are accorded only straight line with his left eye. by the University of London and by the Queen's College in Dublin. The course of the German government has been very capricious. In this city women are admitted to clinical instruction at Bellevue Hospital and receive invitations from many of the best physicians of other hospitals to attend their clinical lectures. With regard to midwifery I may say that a good many women, chiefly in the German quarters of large cities, practice that branch of the profession un. der foreign diplomas received from schools especially established for the character and perseverance, and she training of midwives. About a year ago an attempt was made to get up a college of midwifery in New York, but the County Medical Society, after full discussion, pronounced against the project, and I myself regard the

Bitten by a Cobra.

it was projected."

night while watching his maize crop. Ere I knew of it they had brought him airs from as many popular operas. into my compound in front of the hope now. He could still clearly tell me the particulars. He had been bitten, he said, on putting his foot to the ground while moving off his charpoy in the dark, but, thinking the bite was that of a non-poisonous snake, had given no more heed to the matter and gone to sleep again, till he was awakened by his friends coming in search of him. With some difficulty I was able to find the bite-very faint, no larger than the prick from a pin, but still the unmistakable double mark of the poison fangs. He felt the poison, he said, gradually ascending the limb, and pointed to a part just above the knee, where he felt it had already reached the limb below that being, he said, be- sky, numbed, and painless to the touch, like could find anyone there and pleaded the foot when "asleep." I gave him the usual remedies, and kept him walking to and fro, but gradually his limbs seemed to be losing their power of voluntary motion, and his head was beginning to droop from the overpowering drowsiness that was surely gathering over him. At intervals he pointed out the poison line steadily rising higher, and was still able to answer questions clearly on being roused. At length it seemed to be of no use torturing him further by kee ing him moving about, and he was allowed to remain at rest. Shortly after this, while being supported in a sitting posture, all at once, without any premonitory sign, he gave one or two long sighs, and life ceased, about an hour after he had himself walked into the compound. There was something take laughing and rejoicing. terribly real in this faculty of pointing (as the snake-bitten patient always can) that was gradually bringing him nearer and nearer to death, with the prospect of only another hour or half hour remaining to him; and yet the patient does not seem to realize this with the keenness that an on-looker does, probably from the poison benumbing at the same time the powers of the mind as well as the body.-All the Year Round.

Without Argument.

the judge, and said:

ample of my young friend who has their descendants; these, added to the visiting," or "give a party," because just finished; and submit the case without argument.

was large and oppressive.

CLIPPINGS FOR THE CURIOUS

The military salute is a survival of the knightly salute made to the queen of beauty, and signifies a shielding of the eyes from the gloriousness of her

William III, Queen Anne, the four Georges, the Duchess of Kent, Prince Albert and the Princess Alice all died on a Saturday. Prince Leopold died on a Friday and broke the spell.

A gunsmith, of Charlotte, N. C., has made a novel gun for a man who is private classes where they receive in- blind in his right eye, and who cannot struction from surgeons and physicians shoot from his left shoulder. The of reputation. Women are excluded stock of the gun is curved so that when the butt is placed against his many. In England facilities for their | right shoulder the gun-barrel falls in a

> When "Chinese" Gordon first visited the Seychelles Islands, and saw the curious grove of palm trees therewhich grow in pairs, and if one is cut down its mate also dies-he at once indited an official dispatch announcing that he had discovered the original Garden of Eden, in which trees of good and evil were still flourishing.

> Cards are said to have been invented about the year 1300, to divert Charles the Fourth, then King of France, who had fallen into a melancholy disposition.

invented our numerals-1 to 10 -prior to the Christian era, and the Arabians, who became familiar with them about the year 900 A. D., introduced them into Spain, whence they spread all over Europe.

scheme as most undesirable, at least as An Easter egg was made by a Parisian house for a present to a very wealthy Spanish lady, at a cost of Among many instances of snake-bite $4,000. It was formed of white enampoisoning I have seen was a strong el; on the inside was engraved the young Brahmin of twenty, well known gospel for Easter Day, and by some to me, who had been bitten during the ingenious mechanism, a little bird lodged in this dainty cage sang twelve

According to the Chinese, cask bungalow. As yet he walked quite making has been known to them for steadily, only leaning slightly on the many thousand years. They labored, arm of another man. There was that however, under this drawback. They peculiar drowsy look in his eyes, how- did not know how to give the final ever, as from a strong narcotic, which touch by which the lid is fastened inindicated his having been bitten for the only method that struck them as while the cooper tightened the hoops and secured the lid in its position. But how was the boy to be got out? for three thousand years.

PEARLS OF THOUGHT.

In the humblest trade there is roon for all the virtues.

Things sweet to the taste prove to be sour to the digestion.

Expedients are for an hour, but principles are for the ages.

Some men are like pyramids, very broad where they touch the ground, but grow narrower as they touch the Education is the best capital with which we can endow our children, but it is not wise to confine them so steadtheir physical welfare is neglected.

dandies, not heroes. The men of hising world saw them to be great, and labeled them accordingly.

Prosperity tries the human heart forth the hidden character.

True joy is a serene and sober motion; and they are miserably out that

Hypocrites are wicked: they hide out each stage of the ascending poison | their defects with so much care that their hearts are poisoned by them.

A Large Family.

the red clover, which is so abundant babies. Some of them "play baby" He was a young lawyer, and was de- repented of my extravagance. I have of loose cotton. livering his maiden speech. Like now sixty-nine hives of pure Italian In one African tribe the boys have most young lawyers, he was florid bees, and they are all the descendants spears made of reeds, shields, bows, and rhetorical, scattering and weary. For of my pretty queen. Allowing forty arrows, with which they imitate their four weary hours he talked at the thousand bees to swarm, which is a father's doings; and they make ani-Court and the jury, until everybody moderate number, it is not a bad mals out of clay, while their sisters felt like lynching him. When he got showing for her majesty. Let me see, "jump the rope." Besides, the African through, his opponent, a grizzled old forty thousand by sixty-nine makes- children, like children all over the professional, arose, looked sweetly at well, at least two and a half millions world, enjoy themselves "making beof living descendants, besides dozens lieve." They imitate the life around "Your Honor, I will follow the ex- of queens I have given away, with all them, not playing "keep house," "go multitudes that have lived and died in they see none of these things in their the meantime, must make altogether, homes; but they pretend building a hut Then he sat down, and the silence not far from two hundred millions in making clay jars, and crushing corn to twelve years."-St. Nicholas.

HUMOROUS.

"I thought you were a flame of Miss Bulhon, Mr. Dood," said Slim. 'I thought so too," said the other, 'until the old man put me out one aight."

A belle, who six months ago was so languid that she could scarcely support herself at the altar, now throws a dat-iron tifty-six feet, and hits her husband every time.

"Papa," said a lad the other night, after attentively studying for some minutes an engraving of a human skeleton, "how did this man manage to keep in his dinner?"

"Evergreen hedges may be trimmed," remarks a fashion paper. The prevailing style, however, is to have them plain. An evergreen hedge trimmed with bugle beads and point lace ought never to be popular.

The Indians are gradually gaining wisdom from contact with civilization. A Sioux brave, who is an awfully poor shot, has been contemptuously named by his fellow braves "The. Woman-Who-Throws-Stones-At-The-Hens."

Will you have roastbeefcornbeefroast-porkporkandbeans-hamandbaconorhash? rattled the pretty waitress to The Brahmins are believed to have | Jones the first night at the new boarding house. The bashful man blushed and remarked that "he believed he would, thanks."

> "Do you believe that a woman nowa-days would die for the object of her love?" asked a bachelor friend. "I don't know whether she'd die or not," answered the Esaedict; "but I've known her to go wild when the trimming didn't suit her."

> A New York man moodily announced that he must buy him a stout pair of new boots, but the significance of the remark was wholly lost on the dude who was making his constitutional call on the moody man's

What Will Burst a Gun.

In bravado a young man placed the muzzle of his fowling piece under the water, and fired the charge. The resometime, and left but little room for feasible being to place a boy in ide sult was the bursting of the barrel near the breech and the mutilation of his hand. Another placed and held the muzzle of his piece square against This remained an unsolved problem a piece of plate window glass, and fired the charge -powder and a bullet. The glass was shattered, so was the gun barrel. Another instance was that of an experimenter who had heard that a candle could be fired from the barrel of a gun through an inch board. He drove a candle into the muzzle of the gun, fired, and the explosion split the barrel almost its entire length, and did not even drive the candle from the muzzle. Still another burst of a gun barrel was caused by the use of wet grass for a wad, well rammed down over a charge of shot. But perhaps one of the most singular exhibitions in this line was a Colt's navy revolver, which some years ago was sent to the ily to the task of acquiring it that factory in Hartford, Conn. This was A before the adaptation of these pistols sound mind should dwell in a sound to the metallic cartridges, and it is probable that in loading with open Mirrors are the accompaniments of powder and ball only a small amount of powder got into the chamber, and tory were not perpetually looking in the bullet was not propelled with suffithe glass to make sure of their own | cient force to drive it from the muzzle: size. Absorbed in their work they did at least the bullet did not go out, but it, and did it so well that the wonder- | edged. As the shooter did not know whether the bullet escaped or not, he kept on firing till the barrel burst or bulged, and when it was sawed in two with the deepest probe and draws longitudinally there were found four teen bullets wedged one into the other, and so much "upset" by the hammering of the successive explosions of the powder charges that some of them were not less than one inch in diameter, being flattened disks instead of conical bullets. - Scientific American.

Playthings of Children in Africa. The girls in Africa, as elsewhere,

"The yellow Italian bees are gentler are fond of dolls; but they like them than the brown wild bees; and it is best alive, so they take puppies for the said that the Italian bee has a longer purpose, and carry them about fied to proboscis, and so can get honey from their backs, as their mothers carry hereabout. I thought they were bet- with little pigs. The boys play shoot ter; for, when I was a very poor man, with a gun made to imitate the "white I bought an Italian queen bee in the man's gun." Two pieces of cane tied big city of New York, and paid twen- together make the barrels, the stock is ty dollars for her, and I have never yet made of clay, and the smoke is a tuft